Early 2001 the PEB realised that an International Web Master Was required to keep the IPA up-to-date with IT and the workings of The INTERNET. The position was offered to Edwin Sutton, the Secretary Of No 11 Region within the British Section. Edwin accepted the post and Has ensured that the International website sets the highest standards in IPA Communications.

Article 17 of the International Statute refers to Impartially and states that PEB members, International Commission members, Internal Auditors and members of a Crisis Committee, shall carry out their duties independently of the interests of their Sections and for the exclusive good of the Association. The International Commission members are shown below as in 2006. The Internal Auditors are also shown.

International Youth Gatherings:

IG's are hosted annually by different Sections, inviting 15-17 year old groups of around 50 participants. Sons, daughters and grandchildren of members enjoy a special theme, with activities to encourage an 'international spirit'.

Internal Audit: Between the 16th and 18th March 2007, the internal Auditors Dione Bugeja and Gunter Lambrecht met in Martigny together with Pierre Martin Moulin and Romain Miny to carry out the internal audit for the 2006 accounts. Thanks to Pierre, his wife Suzette and the family the stay was a very pleasant one and for our Mediterranean member, the atmosphere around was something completely different and enjoyable. The audit took the entire Saturday and was carried out in a most cordial and professional manner. When the books were closed and papers signed the sun was already disappearing behind the surrounding mountains. It is to be noted and remarked that our treasurers are performing a remarkable job in maintaining the Association accounts in a healthy state. Special thanks should be expressed towards Pierre who is allocating considerable time for IPA at the expenses of this family. Apart from the audit there were a few other issues discussed for future consideration.

Christmas Wish from the International President

During the six years I have been writing these New Year and Christmas messages, many things have happened that have influenced our association in positive as well as negative ways.

In 1980, when I was elected International President, the political climate in Europe had improved for some years already and in 1989 the fall of the Berlin wall was a fact. This meant an entirely new situation in Europe and of course it also influenced the IPA. Soon we could notice how police officers from one country after the other from the eastern part of Europe made enquiries about our association and it did not take long before we received the first applications for membership of the IPA. This was of course very satisfactory, but it also created problems. Most of these problems were of a technical nature and thanks to the enthusiastic assistance from many IPA Sections in neighbouring countries, both on Section-level and from individual members and a lot of hard work from our International Secretary General, we have been able to solve most of these problems. As a result we now have a number of new Sections. This has been a very positive period for the IPA.

Unfortunately the development of our association has not been equally positive in all parts of the world. During this period we have been forced to expel (World Congress 1994) a number of Sections for inactivity and for not having fulfilled their obligations towards the IPA as laid down in our Statutes. This is very sad and it hurts every time it happens. Because of this, the total number of IPA Sections has not increased in a way one could have expected.

As far as membership figures are concerned, we have a similar situation. When reading the progress reports, one can notice that in some Sections there has been a very satisfactory development of the membership figures, when in other sections there has been stagnation in growth. This is something that must be seen as a sign of warning in those Sections with a weak or no development. I don't see the situation as alarming, but we must try to find out what the reasons are and take measures to turn this negative trend. However, all in all the total growth of our association is very positive and today we have more than 250,000 members in 55 Sections. It is a good result, but we cannot allow ourselves to rest. If we all together try to find ways and methods, adapted to our modern world, I believe in a positive future for our association. Something very encouraging is the fact that more and more Sections take active part in the international work by sending delegates to our World Congresses and IEC meetings. At the latest IEC meeting in Nicosia this year 38 Sections were represented. This is more than at any international meeting before.

Six years ago, when I noticed that we had positive political development in many countries, I thought that we had reason to believe we were heading towards a better world. Obviously I was wrong. There are still many dark clouds in the sky. People are also suffering from war and violence. The hope for a world where people can live together in peace and friendship seems far away. Therefore it is encouraging that we as police officers within our association have shown that, in spite of war and dissension, it is possible to create bonds of friendship between people across the borders. I believe that an organisation such as IPA, where people from different countries can meet as friends and where we clearly have embodied the principles of human rights for all people, can play an important part in the work for better understanding between people and in the creation of a more peaceful world.

On behalf of the Permanent Executive Bureau I wish you all peace and happiness for 1994. To those of you who celebrate Christmas, I wish you and your families a Merry Christmas.

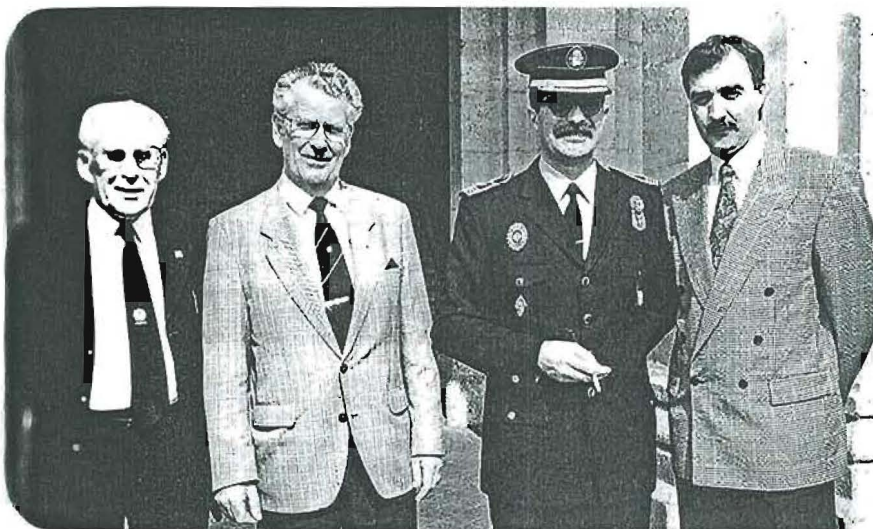

Roy Stragner,
International President

During his period of Adviser from 1994 until 1997, Roy was Chairman of the International Commission for UN Affairs and in this capacity he accompanied Alan Carter (ISG) to advise when the ISG made a successful application to have Our NGO Status, first granted in 1967 but lost in 1974, re-instated

The Austrian Section has always played a leading role in the IPA and the article shown "Austria on the International Scene" gives a history of the Section and records the achievements of certain members, e.g. Dr. Karl Homma, a former International President; Alfred Bauer who served on the International Commission for UN Affairs for many years, Walter Mösslacher, a former 1st International Vice President from 1994 to 2000; Franz Berger, a member of the UN Affairs; Richard Benda a long serving General Secretary and Dr. Hubert Holler was an Internal Auditor for the PEB from 1988 to 1991

Österreicher auf internationalem Parkett

Die IPA ist eine weltweite Organisation die beim 1. Kongress in Paris im Jahre 1955 acht, zwischenzeitlich aber 60 Mitgliedssektionen zählt. Es gibt weder ein Recht und auch gar nicht die Möglichkeit, dass jede Sektion im internationalen Vorstand dem PEB (Permanent Executiv Bureau) mit seinen 8 Mitgliedern vertreten ist. Die Chance in dieses Gremium gewählt zu werden ist daher eine sehr geringe. Zwei Österreicher haben es bis jetzt geschafft: Dr. Karl Homma und Walter Mösslacher.

Dr. Karl Homma war der erste Österreicher der in ein internationales Gremium kam. Er ist auch der einzige Österreicher der an die absolute Spitze, zum Internationalen Präsidenten, gewählt wurde. Noch nie wurde ein Internationaler Präsident gewählt, der nicht vorher bereits im PEB tätig war, so war es auch bei Dr. Homma. Beim Weltkongress 1970 in Sizilien wurde er zum 3. Vizepräsidenten vorgeschlagen und auch angenommen.

Dr. Karl Homma †

Seine weiteren Stationen:

1973 in Montreux - 2. Vizepräsident

1976 in Calgary - 1. Vizepräsident und

1979 in Perugia - Internationaler Präsident

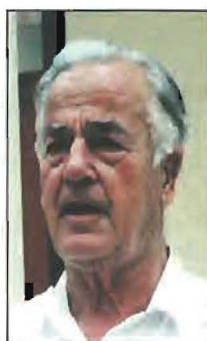

Es sollte bis 1994 dauern, bis wieder ein Österreicher auf der Kandidatenliste stehen sollte. Es war der österreichische IEC-Delegierte Walter Mösslacher. Mösslacher wurde erwartungsgemäß zum 3. Vizepräsidenten gewählt. Beim folgenden Kongress 1997 in Quebec kandidierte er für den 1. Vizepräsidenten und auch hier wurde er mit überwältigender Mehrheit bestätigt. Aus gesundheitlichen Gründen konnte Walter Mösslacher beim Weltkongress 2000 in Boumemouth nicht mehr kandidieren und beendete seine internationale IPA-Karriere.

Walter Mösslacher

Kontrolle ist überall nötig und so gibt es natürlich auch für den Internationalen Vorstand zwei Rechnungsprüfer. Dr. Hubert Holler war bisher der einzige Österreicher, der auf dieser Basis Einblick in die Buchhaltung bekam. Diese Funktion bekleidete er von 1988 bis 1991.

Neben und zur Unterstützung des PEB gibt es fünf Kommissionen, die ebenfalls international besetzt werden. Hier werden die Mitglieder (4-7 Personen) nicht beim Weltkongress gewählt, sondern von den Sektionen vorgeschlagen und vom PEB auf Grund verschiedener Kriterien (Fachkenntnis, Sprachen) ernannt.

Bisher gehörten der Internationalen Berufskommission: Walter Mösslacher (1988 - 1994) und Richard Benda (1994 - bis dato) an.

Alfred Bauer †

1979 wurde eine „Kommission für die Vereinten Nationen“ gegründet, in die Alfred Bauer, damals Wiener Landesgruppenobmann, aufgenommen wurde. Bauer blieb bis zu seinem Tod 1992 in dieser Kommission.

Die UN-Kommission wurde später in „International Commission for External Relations“ umbenannt. Ihr gehörten von 1993 bis 2003 Friedrich Bittner und von 2003 bis dato Franz Berger an.

HIGH HONOUR FOR OUR FOUNDER

The Founder of the International Police Association, Arthur Troop, has been presented with the "Grosse Ehrenzeichen" (The Grand Order of Merit) for services to the Republic of Austria.

The investiture took place on 28 September during a Gala Ball in the Park Hotel, Vienna on the occasion of the 35 Anniversary of the Viennese IPA. In the absence of the Federal President, the presentation was made by Dr Caspar Einem, the Federal Minister for the Interior who spoke of Arthur's vision in founding what has become the World's largest police organisation with over 280,000 members in 58 national sections. The IPA is held in very high regard in Austria and the Section with over 29,000 members is the second largest. It has always maintained close personal links with the Founder.

Distinguished guests at this grand event organised with true Viennese flair included Frau Ingrid Smeikal, President of the Vienna Parliament and Dr J Marek, Deputy Commissioner of the Vienna Police.

Only one German word can sum up the hospitality and friendship which was afforded to Arthur and that word is "gemütlich". The dictionary defines it as good natured, cosy, comfortable, snug. It is all of those things and more, much more. This magical untranslatable word means that whilst you are in Austria, you will feel at home, you will be welcomed like one of the family, like a long lost friend. Austria is like that and that is how Arthur was received when it conferred upon him one of its highest accolades.

Arthur, who will be 82 years of age on 15 December 1996, still attends all meetings of the International Executive (PEB) of which he is an ex-officio member. He has been honoured in the past for founding the International Police Association. In 1966 he was awarded the BEM and in 1994 the IPA World Police Prize.

We congratulate Arthur and send him and Marjorie, who is now making good progress after a complicated hip operation, every best wish for the future.

„Servo per Amikeco“

Die Anhängerschaft von Troops Idee wuchs in England zusehends, und bereits am 1. Januar 1950, also vor genau 55 Jahren, wurde die „International Police Association“ unter dem Leit-motiv „Servo per Amikeco“ (Esperanto), „Dienen durch Freundschaft“, in Großbritannien aus der Taufe gehoben. Unter dem Impuls von Arthur Troop und dem Schaffen einiger britischen IPA-Pionieren wurde die IPA-Idee alsbald über Englands Grenzen hinausgetragen.

FOREWORD

In all professions and in all fields of work, there has developed in recent years a growing awareness of the importance of bibliographical services.

This International Bibliography of Selected Police Literature aims at providing individuals and libraries with a list of modern publications. Additional information sheets will appear as necessary.

This service is intended as a means of contributing to the efficiency and assisting with studies and other activities in the specialized field of Police Science.

As is the case in many countries, this science has entered a new phase since the war and the number of publications continually increases. Therefore a manual of this kind cannot be expected to give an exhaustive account of the whole field. Its aim is to promote co-ordination and co-operation.

The national sections of the International Police Association, however, should co-operate with their own bibliographical centres in order to have all publications within the range of Police Science classified under the heading POLICE. The national lists of police literature should be comprehensive and give details of periodicals.

This manual will be useful, it is hoped, to all members of Police Departments who have the initiative and courage to wish to benefit from the progress made in their profession in other countries and in other services.
