Mallorca

Mallorca is the largest of the popular Balearic Islands. The Balearic Islands are situated in the Mediterranean Sea, to the south west of the Iberian Peninsula and are one of the most important holiday destinations in Europe. With a fantastic and wide selection of nightlife to choose from, you will not be disappointed as the best leisure and entertainment can be found within each resort.

With a typically Mediterranean climate, where the sun shines for more than 300 days a year and the average temperature reaches 14° in winter and 27° in summer, the island becomes the ideal destination to play football all year round. Modern sports facilities with artificial grass pitches allow keen footballers to spend their holiday playing their favourite sport: football.

Santa Ponsa

If you want white sandy beaches and crystal clear waters, then a stay in Santa Ponsa will fit the bill perfectly and with a beach that shelves gently into the sea it is great for children. If you enjoy active holidays, Santa Ponsa beach has a wide range of water sports on offer including sailing, water skiing, and scuba diving, there is a fantastic water park just on the outskirts of Santa Ponsa that the whole of the team will enjoy!

By night, you will find many excellent restaurants along the sea front, where you can dine while watching the sunset over the sea. If the nightlife is an important part of your holiday, Santa Ponsa offers a variety of bars and restaurants, Magaluf is just along the coast and only five minutes in a taxi, this has a great choice of clubs and bars where you can dance the night away.
