

70th Jubilee Edition 2016

International Airborne March Oosterbeek

Join us at the 70th Jubilee Edition of the world's largest one day march on September 3, 2016 at Oosterbeek in The Netherlands.

The International Airborne March is the only commemorative march held in remembrance of the Battle of Arnhem in September 1944.

Every year over 30.000 participants from all over the world join us. Not only to commemorate those who gave their lives for our freedom, but also to enjoy the beautiful surroundings of the Oosterbeek area, where a major part of the battle took place.

Airborne Wandeltocht

Every year on the first Saturday in September the Battle of Arnhem is remembered during the international Airborne March at Oosterbeek in The Netherlands. Many IPA members attended over the last decades as individual or as a team. IPA Netherlands celebrated their Diamond Jubilee Baton anniversary in 2010 with us.

Join the 70th Jubilee Edition in 2016 and take part in the largest one day march of the world. Upon returning from the march you will receive a great home-coming-welcome under the famous arch and you will be entertained on the premises with music and drinks or you can visit the world famous Airborne Museum.

Tickets will be available via our website as of April 1st, 2016.

Group-applications are available as well. Groups receive a commemorative trophee together with their medals.

Join us and be there!

see you in September!
